

Privacy Policy

This privacy policy is provided by Australian Investment Exchange Limited ABN 71 076 515 930 AFSL 241400 of Ground Floor, Tower 1, 201 Sussex Street, Sydney, NSW, 2000 (Ausix).

1. YOUR PRIVACY IS IMPORTANT TO US

We know that how we collect, use, exchange and protect your information is important to you and we value your trust. That's why protecting your information and being clear about what we do with it is a vital part of our relationship with you.

Please note that during the course of our relationship with you, we may tell you more about how we handle your information. This could be when you complete an application or receive terms and conditions or a Product Disclosure Statement. When you receive this further information, please consider it carefully and visit our website regularly as we update this policy from time to time.

In addition to the Privacy Act, individuals located in the European Union (EU) may also have rights under EU-based rules known as the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). The GDPR has harmonised the data privacy laws of each individual EU country, giving more rights to individuals located in the EU and more obligations to organisations holding their personal information. Details of additional rights of individuals located in the EU and how we meet them are outlined in Appendix 1. We take privacy seriously and are committed to ensuring the protection of your personal information, no matter where you are located.

2. INFORMATION WE COLLECT

Information we collect from you

We collect information about you and your interactions with us, for example when you request or use our products or services, transfer money, phone us or visit any of our websites. When you use our website or mobile applications we may collect information about your location or activity including IP address, telephone number and whether you've accessed third party sites. Some of this website information we collect using 'cookies'.

The information we collect from you may include your identity and contact details, other personal details such as gender and marital status and financial information.

Information we collect from others

We collect information about you from others, such as service providers, agents, advisers or brokers. We may collect information about you that is publicly available, for example from public registers or social media, or made available by third parties.

Sensitive information

The Privacy Act also protects your sensitive information, if we need to obtain this type of information, we will ask for your consent (except where otherwise permitted by law).

3. HOW DO WE USE YOUR INFORMATION?

We collect, use and exchange your information so that we can:

- establish your identity and assess applications for products and services
- price and design our products and services
- administer our products and services
- manage our relationship with you
- manage our risks and help identify and investigate illegal activity, such as fraud
- contact you, for example if we suspect fraud on your account or need to tell you something important

- conduct and improve our businesses and improve the customer experience
- comply with our legal obligations and assist government and law enforcement agencies or regulators

Gathering and combining data to get insights

Improvements in technology enable organisations, like us, to collect and use information to get a more integrated view of customers and provide better products and services.

We may combine customer information we have with information available from a wide variety of external sources (for example census or Australian Bureau of Statistics data). This allows us to analyse the data in order to gain useful insights which can be used for any of the purposes mentioned earlier in this section.

In addition, we may provide data insights or related reports to others, for example to help them understand their customers better. These are based on aggregated information and do not contain any information that identifies you.

4. WHO DO WE EXCHANGE YOUR INFORMATION WITH?

We exchange your information with our related entities and certain third parties so that we may adopt an integrated approach to our customers. We may use this information for any of the purposes mentioned in section 3.

Third parties

We may exchange your information with third parties where this is permitted by law or for any of the purposes mentioned in section 3.

Third parties include:

- service providers and those who refer business to us
- co-branding or branding partners (organisations with whom we have agreements to provide products and services under a different brand name)
- those to whom we outsource certain functions, for example, direct marketing, statement production, debt recovery and information technology support
- brokers, agents and advisers, and their service providers, and persons acting on your behalf, for example guardians and persons holding power of attorney
- market operators, operators of clearing and settlements facilities, share and other registries
- issuers of financial products and platform providers
- other financial institutions, for example so that we can process a claim for mistaken payment
- auditors, insurers and re-insurers
- employers or former employers
- government and law enforcement agencies or regulators
- entities established to help identify illegal activities and prevent fraud.

Under 16s and special needs

If you are under 16 or have special needs, we may share your information with your parent or legal guardian or any person appointed to manage your affairs.

Privacy Policy

Sending information overseas

From time to time we may send your information overseas, including to our related entities, service providers or other third parties who operate or hold data outside Australia. Where we do this, we make sure that appropriate data handling and security arrangements are in place. Please note that Australian law may not apply to some of these entities.

We may also send information overseas to complete a particular transaction, such as an International Money Transfer, or where this is required by laws and regulations of Australia or another country.

We currently send your information to the US for the purpose of managing global markets trading accounts.

5. KEEPING YOUR INFORMATION SECURE

We keep your hard-copy or electronic records on our premises and systems or offsite using trusted third parties. Our security safeguards include:

Security Safeguard	Details
Staff education	We train and remind our staff of their obligations with regard to your information.
Taking precautions with overseas transfers and third parties	When we send information overseas or use third parties that handle or store data, we ensure that appropriate data handling and security arrangements are in place.
System security	When you transact with us on the internet via our website or mobile apps we encrypt data sent from your computer to our systems. We have firewalls, intrusion detection systems and virus scanning tools to protect against unauthorised persons and viruses accessing our systems. When we send electronic data we use dedicated secure networks or encryption. We limit access by requiring use of passwords and/or smartcards.
Building security	We have protection in our buildings against unauthorised access such as alarms, cameras and guards (as required).
Destroying data when no longer required	Where practical, we keep information only for as long as required (for example, to meet legal requirements or our internal needs).

6. ACCESSING, UPDATING AND CORRECTING YOUR INFORMATION

Can I get access to my information?

You can ask for access your basic information (for example what transactions you've made) by going online or phoning us using the details provided in the header of this policy.

For more substantial information you will need to contact Customer Relations using the details in section 8.

Is there a fee?

There is no fee for making the initial request, but in some cases there may be an access charge to cover the time we spend locating, compiling and explaining the information you ask for. If there is an access charge, we'll give you an estimate upfront and confirm that you'd like us to proceed. Generally, the access charge is based on an hourly rate plus any photocopying costs or other out-of-pocket expenses. You'll need to make the payment before we start, unless you've authorised us to debit your account.

How long does it take to gain access to my information?

We try to make your information available within 30 days of your request. Before we give you the information, we'll need to confirm your identity.

Can you deny or limit my request for access?

In certain circumstances we're allowed to deny your request, or limit the access we provide. For example we might not provide you access to commercially sensitive information. Whatever the outcome, we'll write to you explaining our decision.

Updating your basic information

It's important that we have your correct details such as your current address and telephone number. You can check or update your information by going online or phoning us using the details provided in the header of this policy.

Can I correct my information?

You can ask us to correct any inaccurate information we hold or have provided to others by contacting us using the details in section 8. If the information that is corrected is information we have provided to others, you can ask us to notify them of the correction. We don't charge a fee for these requests.

If we're able to correct your information, we'll inform you when the process is complete.

What if we disagree that the information should be corrected?

If we disagree with you that information should be corrected, we'll let you know in writing our reasons. You can ask us to include a statement with the relevant information, indicating your view that the information is inaccurate, misleading, incomplete, irrelevant or out-of-date. We will take reasonable steps to comply with such a request.

7. MAKING A PRIVACY COMPLAINT

We're here to help

We accept that sometimes we can get things wrong. If you have a concern about your privacy you have a right to make a complaint and we'll do everything we can to put matters right.

How do I make a complaint?

To lodge a complaint, please get in touch with us using the details set out in section 8. We'll review your situation and try to resolve it straight away. If you have raised the matter through your point of contact and it has not been resolved to your satisfaction, please contact our Customer Relations team using the details in in section 8.

How do we handle a complaint?

We acknowledge every complaint we receive and provide our name, a reference number and contact details of the investigating officer. We keep you updated on the progress we're making towards fixing the problem.

Usually, it takes only a few days to resolve a complaint. However, if we're unable to provide a final response within 45 days we'll contact you to explain why and discuss a timeframe to resolve the complaint.

External Review

If you're not satisfied with our handling of your matter, you can refer your complaint to external dispute resolution. We suggest you do this only once you've first followed our internal complaint processes set out above.

The Australian Financial Complaints Authority (AFCA) offers a free and independent dispute resolution service for the Australian banking, insurance and investment industries. You can contact AFCA on 1800 931 678, online at www.afca.org.au, or write to Australian Financial Complaints Authority, GPO Box 3, Melbourne, VIC 3001.

If your complaint is about the way we handle your personal information, you may also contact the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner on 1300 363 992, online at www.oaic.gov.au or write to the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner, GPO Box 5218, Sydney NSW 2001.

8. HOW TO CONTACT US OR FIND OUT MORE

For privacy related queries, access or correction requests, or complaints, or to request not to receive direct marketing, or to request a printed version of this policy please contact us on the details provided in the header of this policy as we aim to resolve your query or complaint at your first point of contact with us.

If you have tried to resolve your query through your usual point of contact or customer service team and are not satisfied with the outcome, you can also contact our Customer Relations team directly by calling 1800 805 605 between 8.30 am - 6.00 pm (Sydney/Melbourne time) Monday - Friday, or email on cso@ausiex.com.au, or write to Customer Relations, Reply Paid 41, Sydney NSW 2001.

Appendix 1: Additional rights for individuals located in the European Union

The European Union (EU) General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) has harmonised the data privacy laws of each individual EU country, giving more rights to individuals located in the EU and more obligations to organisations holding their personal information. In this Appendix, “personal information” means any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person (the meaning given to the term “personal data” in the GDPR).

Personal information must be processed in a lawful, fair and transparent manner. As such, if you are located in the EU, GDPR requires us to provide you with more information about how we collect, use, share and store your personal information as well as advising you of your rights as a ‘data subject’.

If you are located in the EU and have an enquiry relating to your rights under the GDPR, please contact our Customer Relations team directly by calling 1800 805 605 between 8.30 am – 6.00 pm (Sydney/Melbourne time) Monday to Friday, or by email on cso@ausiex.com.au.

WHAT PERSONAL INFORMATION DO WE COLLECT?

The information about the data we collect in Section 2 of the main Privacy Policy applies.

Special Categories of Personal Information

The GDPR provides additional protection for personal information about your racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, trade union membership, biometric data (for example your fingerprints), or data concerning your health, sex life or sexual orientation. We will only process this type of personal information with your consent or where otherwise lawfully permitted.

How long we keep your personal information

We will keep your personal information while you are a customer of Ausiex. We aim to keep your personal information for only as long as we need it.

We generally keep your personal information for up to 7 years after you stop being a customer but we may keep your personal information for longer:

- To fulfil legal or regulatory obligations
- For internal research and analytics
- To respond to a question or complaint

HOW WE USE YOUR INFORMATION

We can only collect and use your personal information if we have a valid lawful reason to do so. For Ausiex, these reasons are:

- Contract: We need to process your personal information in order to fulfil a contract you have with us, or because you have asked us to take specific steps before entering into a contract.
- Legal obligations: We need to process your personal information for us to comply with the law (not including contractual obligations).
- Consent: You have given clear consent for us to process your personal information for a specific purpose.
- Legitimate interests: We need to process your personal information for our legitimate interests or the legitimate interests of a third party unless there is a good reason to protect your personal information which overrides these legitimate interests.

We may use your information for direct marketing purposes. We will only do this with your consent.

Your rights as a data subject

The right to be informed how personal information is processed	You have the right to be informed how your personal information is being collected and used. If we require your consent to process your personal information you can withdraw consent at any time. If you withdraw consent, we may not be able to provide certain products or services to you. The right to withdraw only applies when the lawful basis of processing is consent.
The right of access to personal information	You can access your personal information that we hold by emailing: cso@ausiex.com.au
The right to rectification	You have the right to question any personal information we have about you that is inaccurate or incomplete. If you do, we will take reasonable steps to check the accuracy and correct it.
The right to erasure	You have the right to ask us to delete your personal information if there is no need for us to keep it. You can make the request verbally or in writing. There may be legal or other reasons why we need to keep your personal information and if so we will tell you what these are.
The right to restrict processing	You have the right to ask us to restrict our use of your personal information in some circumstances. We may be able to restrict the use of your personal information. In this situation we would not use or share your personal information while it is restricted. This is not an absolute right and only applies in certain circumstances.
The right to data portability	In some circumstances you have the right to request we provide you with a copy of the personal information you have provided to us in a format that can be easily reused.
The right to object	In some circumstances you have the right to object to us processing your personal information.
Rights in relation to automated decision making and profiling	We sometimes use systems to make automated decisions (including profiling) based on personal information we have collected from you or obtained from other sources such as credit reporting bodies. These automated decisions can affect the products or services we offer you. You can ask that we not make decisions based on automated score alone or object to an automated decision and ask that a person review.
The right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority	You have the right to complain to the regulator if you are not happy with the outcome of a complaint. See the 'Regulator Contact Details' section for more information. The individual regulator websites will tell you how to report a concern.

Please note that while any changes you make to your personal information will be reflected in active user databases instantly or within a reasonable period of time, we may retain all information you submit for backups, archiving, prevention of fraud and abuse, analytics, satisfaction of legal obligations, or where we otherwise reasonably believe that we have a legitimate reason to do so.

You may decline to share certain personal information with us, in which case we may not be able to provide to you some of the features and functionality of our products and services.

MINORS AND CHILDREN'S PRIVACY

We will seek parent or guardian consent to collect the details of children under 16.
